A New Space, the Same Commitment to Families

A bright gathering space at our new office.

On October 8, 2026, MFRS reopened its doors at our new office, welcoming a new chapter of connection, support, and community.

Private meeting rooms offer a comfortable setting to meet with clients one on one. Our program room provides space to gather, learn, and build connections, keeping the communities we serve at the heart of our work.

How We Support Families

MFRS helps immigrant and newcomer families thrive through English learning, parent-child programs, youth activities, adult and seniors groups, and individual support. Our culturally responsive programs build skills, connections, and facilitate access to community resources.

English for Community Integration

Summer Program • July–August 2026

Learning that goes beyond the classroom

This summer, adult learners practiced English through classroom lessons and community experiences. From a $25 group shopping challenge to library visits, garden outings, and cooking together, participants used English in everyday situations. Learners grew more confident asking questions, making purchases, and connecting with others.

With support from the Edmonton Community Adult Learning Association (ECALA).

Celebrating Ada Wong

10 years with MFRS

We gathered to celebrate the retirement of Ada Wong, our Program Development Facilitator, and her 10 years of service. We are grateful for the care, commitment, and experience she brought to the MFRS community.

Thank you, Ada! Wishing you joy, creativity, and time for the things you love.
